Frank Sode

Verbal mood and perspective in German attitude reports

This talk compares the mood choices in the complements of three different attitude predicates in German: "glauben" ('believe'; representational non-counterfactual), "vorstellen" ('imagine'; representational counterfactual) and "wünschen" ('wish'; non-representational counterfactual). The discussion focuses on how the choice of mood relates to different notions of perspective.